2. The Stars of the Evening
3. The Stars in Action
4. Sports Review

The engineers and technicians have given the stars appartunities to learn and display their own talents. Abave are shown the fields apen ta stars and technicians in this work.

This building houses the Broadcasting System V. H. S., its engineers, technicians, and stars where programs are planned and executed. All of these workers come and go, but long remembered will be this station which trained its stars for special fields.

The Green and White Network prepares its stars for bigger roles in coming broadcasts. Many are now on foreign networks serving the U. S. A. while others remain working in the home stations.

Engineers Guide

The technicians of station V. H. S. are known as the Boord of Education and ore appointed by the city council upon the recommendotion of the moyor. The board at present is composed of one woman, Mrs. Maude V. Douglas, president; Mr. Marvin C. Cain, treasurer; ond Mr. Lynnet Casbon, secretory. The latter wos appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Gerold H. Stoner. Mrs. Douglas is completing her sixth year of service and Mr. Coin his fourth.

These members sitting ot the control panel select the engineers who ore to plan and present the programs on the Green and White network. They provide the studio —the building—and see thot it is kept in good repair. This body meets with the chief of the engineers, Mr. Roy B. Julion, Superintendent, on the second Tuesday of each month and lays plons for the broadcasts of the year. They try to keep the studio up-to-dote by providing modern equipment and hiring engineers who can direct programs in oll lines.

After your high school course, then what? This is the question I want you to think about.

You, the boys and girls of high school age, are the hope of our country. Either through your own efforts or the good fortune of circumstances, you are achieving a high school education. You are a fortunate group. Out of your group will come ninety per cent of the leaders of our state and nation.

In these times of great stress there are temptations to call you from your course. To urge you to grasp your present opportunity to secure knowledge and experience that will fit you for the years ahead is the purpose of this message. MR. ROY B. JULIAN.

Announcers Prepare Radio Guide

The script writers of the 1944 Broadcast Edition of the yearbook began to gather talent ond material in the spring of 1943. At the opening of the school term in September 1943, the stors of the evening began to consider ways and means of presenting and financing the programs for the 1943-'44 school year. At this same time, the stars (seniors) were called together by the engineers ond technicians and the problems were presented to them. By unanimous vote it wos decided to set the stage and prepare for this Broadcast Edition. Eoch pledged to give some of his time and talent and even money, if necessary, to see this project through. Each was made to realize that for the duration the book might have to be very different from previous yearbooks.

The staff is endeavoring to show the entire schoal organization and its various activities throughout the different sections of the book. The first parading across the stage are all the stars and second their activities and third their recreational program.

The cost of such a program as plonned is approximately $1,200. To finance this it wos found necessary to raise the price of a book to $1.75 a copy. The rest of the money wos made by selling such concessions as candy, milk, and ice cream at noon, and confections were sold after school and at basketball games, senior play and a gift from the Girl Reserves from their "Vee Roam"evening. This work was directed by Miss Mabel Shelquist.

The first big step toward broadcast programs was the taking of pictures of all the stars. Each member of the script cast then put in an average of an hour a day until the edition was finished and sent to the publishers.

No special credit is given to the members of the script cast except on award which is granted to each member on the Monday of the last week of school. This year the following people will receive an award for their time ond talent: Joseph Bozik, editor; Victorio Lindberg, literary editor; Beverly Edwards, business manager; Helen Peck, girls' sport editor; Stanley Conner, boys' sport editor; Gordon LaTour, art editor; Shirlee Hepner, activity editor; Leola Soliday, snap shot editor.

Rewriters Record Studio Events

Before practically every pupil in Valparaiso High School there passes in review the script program as prepared by a group of stars known as the Valpost Staff. Although this group is rather small it gathers and prepares articles about all of the events of school octivities, expresses its opinion through editorials, and tries to record some of the lighter phases of happenings through the feature editorial.

These stars are divided into two groups and must have one term's training in theory and writing before they assume an actual place on the staff. Many times, however, some of the work of these pupils merit publication and is printed along with the work of the advanced pupils. The more advanced group or second term students prepare a program which appears every two weeks. This group along with its sponsor, Mrs. Emmo Rausch Foor, is responsible not only for preparing these programs, but also for financing them. Advertising is sold to merchants. No out-of-town ads are solicited. The program itself costs fifty cents a year or thirty-five cents a semester.

Subscriptions are sold by these same students through home rooms ond the money is collected from each person by this same representative.

This program is not to make money but to bring before the public all the activities of the school as they happen week by week.

This year because of paper shortage and lack of funds the paper was confined to four pages except for o special Christmas edition and the senior edition at the end of the year. The special Christmas number was sent to as many boys in the service whose addresses could be procured. The staff undertaok to compile a list of names of the boys and girls of V. H. S. now in the service. These six hundred and ten names may be read in this book.

Public Relations Council Provides Service

The Blue and White network presents to you the Girl Reserves known to every girl all over America and many of the girls in foreign countries as well.

This group of girls formerly met on every other Thursday at eight thirty in the morning, but due to commando training now meets after school at four o'clock. Their sponsors are Miss Shauer, Miss Shelquist, Miss Miller, and Miss McGillicuddy.

In previous years, the girls were awarded chevrons and sweaters for earning a certain number of points. Points could be earned by attending church, visiting the sick, selling Christmos seals on Saturday during the Christmas vacation, being an officer in the club, participating in the program, and being on the honor roll. For the duration the giving of these awards has been done awoy with because of needed vital material from which they ore made.

The induction of all new members is held in February with candlelight service. The Girl Reserves and Hi-Y are the only service organizations in the school.

The annual party to welcome all new freshmen was given by the joint effort of the Hi-Y and Girl Reserves.

Hi-Y On Air for Eighteen Years

Your onnouncer colls to your attention a program which has been on station V. H. S. for eighteen consecutive yeors, sponsored by Mr. Ralph E. Schenck ond recently assisted by Mr. Phillip Wells.

This service organization outlines definite plans for a year's work. This station with the Blue and White network or Girl Reserves sponsors an annual party for the freshmen and new students. The other outstanding event of the year is the Hi-Y Father and Son banquet. This year due to the wor and restriction of foods the dinner engagement was not kept.

To finance Hi-Y activities the organization sells pencils, operates a bookstore, and has a check room at all of the home basketball games.

Being a service organizotion, church attendance is encouraged among the members. Three times a year these boys meet as a body to attend one of the local churches, ond each year in May are accompanied by their mothers for Mother's Day.

Each year the club awards a courtesy medal to the boy and girl considered to be the most courteous by a vote of the faculty. The girl and boy chosen to be the most courteous last year was Jean Holt ond Bryce Billings.

Programs Follow Character Theme

At eight thirty on every other Thursday morning, we bring you Program C C, better known as the Commercial Club through the courtesy of Miss Dessa M. Hudson.

Your commentator will endeavor to give a preview of the year's activities. At the first meeting officers were elected by the thirty members. The theme chosen was "Character Building." The only requirement to be a member is to have enrolled in a commercial subject of any kind in high school.

During the first semester such speakers as Mr. Curtis Rathburn and Mrs. Alma Krueger appeared; the former talked about "Stuff of Which Champions are Made of," and the latter talked on "Thanksgiving."

The outstanding social event was the annual Christmas party which was held in the Central Junior High School on the night of December 16. The speaker was Mr. Burton Conkling, who told a Christmas story; also other forms of entertainment were enjoyed.

Every year on award day Miss Hudson presents to t he two most outstanding members a medal for their work. The two to receive it last year were Robert Algrim and Mary Ellen Pillard.

Sciemus Hour Aids Research

For the last word in the latest scientific developments be sure to tune in the "Sciemus Hour" every other Friday at eight thirty-two in the morning.

For many years the consulting technician, Mr. C. O. Pauley, has guided the footsteps of the science enthusiasts in many and varied fields. Early in its history Sciemus became a member of the Indiana Junior Academy of Science and since then has maintained its membership.

By experiments and talks he has promoted a scientific interest in life, and many of his students have proved to be geniuses in this field.

For more up-to-date facts on science, local noted speakers were called in and noted professors from the Valparaiso University came and enlightened these scientific minded people.

Every year the Bausch Lomb award is given to the student who has proved himself outstanding and has accomplished what the little medal pin signified. The student who merited this pin and fulfilled all expectations was Bryce Billings.

Artists Prepare Dramatic Highlights

For your evening's entertainment we bring you the famous actors and actresses, "The Footlight Masqueraders" of the Valparaiso High School. Three times each year these stars are able to entertain you with one of their outstanding plays.

The war has had its influence in high school, and this club has felt the shortage of mon and womon power because of the required commando training. Boys hove felt the need of special science work and have hod little time for dramatics.

However, the director, Mr. Burton L. Conkling, girls, and a few boys hove worked throughout the entire year and were able to present several plays among which were "Grondma Pulls The String" and "Trial By Moonlight."

In addition to ploy acting the club was given instructions in make-up, voice, posture, and all things necessary for an actor or actress. Actual experience was given when making-up operetta and play casts.

For several years there hos been no class in dramatics os a part of the regular curriculum, but this club has worked without school credit merely for the enjoyment.

Each year awards ore given on the regular award day to those most outstanding during the year. Last yeor Henry Pahl ond Mary Helen Thrun merited this honor..

Vocational Hour On V. H. S. Network

Station V.H.S. is always striving to offer those who are connected with the studio all possible advantages of worth while programs. One of the newest of these to be given a clear channel every other Thursday morning at 8:32 is the Airplane Club.

The technical adviser is Mr. Kenneth Pifer, and his interest is airplanes. The boys belonging to this organization have been handicapped by lack of materials and a place to meet. Mast of the meetings used to be held in the gymnasium, but commando classes have taken over, and the air minded boys have had no regular meeting place. Because of restrictions on materials, such as rubber and balsa wood, this group has had to give up extensive building of planes.

Last year they were among the honor students to build madel planes far the government and ninety-five boys were given special recognition for their wark. Since they could not continue with this work, they have been studying the theory of flight, through discussions, lectures, and moving pictures.

A study has been made of various types of planes such as the new type air-jet madel, rocket models and proposed post war models. Morris Anderson, V.H.S. student told of actually flying.

Members of this club da not receive credit, the only reword is the joy they get fram the work. There are no dues, but the boys voluntarily gave money and purchased some magazines relative ta their study.

The Vocational Club, a new organization in September 1943, discontinued its meetings because its founder Mr. Harry Raberts was called into service before the boys were able to carry on alone. It is hoped that next year this graup can make a new start.

Choir - Glee Club and Operetta

Choral Artists Sing for Station V. H. S.

The all girl chorus and the choir of mixed voices come to you on the air four times each week at 8:15 to rehearse music for special broadcasts over this and neighboring networks. Their director, Mrs. Mary Myers, selects the music for all programs. For those who enjoy the finer and more enduring types of music this program furnishes forty-five minutes of good entertainment.

Some of the special programs during the year were: The Great Assembly Line sung by mixed voices at the Porter County Music festival. This is a patriotic production, the climax of which came when Robert Lemster dressed as Uncle Sam distributed bonds (?) to those in the audience. These forty-five singers also participated in the all county chorus which sang Land of Hope and Glory under the direction of Mr. George Myers. Some other appearances were at the city P.T.A. meetings and at Wednesday morning assemblies.

From this group eight boys and girls: Robert Wiencken, Robert Lemster, Robert Noonan, John Delworth, Anna Combis, Jane Kohler, Priscilla Palmer, and Marion Gold, went caroling on the Friday morning of the Christmas vacation. They visited all of the grade buildings and the hospital. In the high school they sang in all of the halls so they could be heard over the entire building. Reporter Broadcasts Football Review

This is your high school reporter bringing to you once again the annual football round up of Valparaiso High School.

This program is brought to you yearly through the courtesy of the seniors of Valpo High, over stotion V.H.S. Green and White Network.

With the coming of each school yeor, oll of the sports-minded students turn to footboll at the high school located at Valparaiso. This yeor's schedule consisted of eight games—half at home and half away. Approximately fifty Viking veterans and newcomers took to the gridiron two weeks before school opened.

The first game wos with the Crown Point Bull Dogs on Boucher Field. After the smoke and dust had cleared, the Crown Pointmen were on top by a 12-7 morgin; however the small Viking men showed up much better thon was expected. The Green and White's score came when a pass was intercepted in the end zone.

Valpo journeyed to Griffith for the next encounter. Here they scored again, but not before the Panthers compiled a total of twenty-five points. George Ball completed six passes in succession, and the last was for a touchdown to Charles Van Ness.

The next game was played on the Valpo gridiron against Michigan City. The tilt ended with the Vikings on the short end of a 30-0 count.

The Vikings went to Rensselaer with high hopes of bringing bock a victory from the under-rated Rennselaer eleven, but it couldn't be done. The closest that the Vikings ever came to scoring was at the time they put the boll on the three yard line, but the gun ended the game with Rensselaer taking the game by a 7-0 score.

Finding themselves playing the strongest team of the season the Vikings were helpless against the LaPorte Slicers.

Valpo out-played the Hobart Brickies for fifty-eight minutes of their first game, but those other two minutes were long enough for Hobort to moke six points and olso win the game.

The next game was the best of the season as far as Valpo was concerned. Lowell men invaded the Viking field and drew forth a loss. "Barney" Woycik starred in this gome with his continual line plunging. The score showed, Valpo 25, Lowell 13.

The last game of the season was played at Hobart on the Brickie's field. Again Valpo met defeat only by eight points in a very hard fought contest. The Vikings fought hard to win the last game of the season, but their attempts were futile.

Now your sport's announcer takes you back to the studio for station identification.

This is station V.H.S. at 8:00 P. M. Valparaiso watch time.

The Valparaiso Reserves played three games, two home and one away.

The first game was here with the Junior Hobart team. The game resulted in a 12-0 loss for the Vikings.

The next game was with LaPorte also at Valpo. The Vikings were white-washed in this contest, but still they fought bravely.

The next game was again with Hobart, only at Hobart this time. Valpo last the third and last game to the Brickie Reserves.

Six of the players on the first team will leave the V.H.S. network in May, most of them to play on a larger team, Uncle Sam's.

These boys are: Bill Black, Gene Gray, Gordon LaTour, George Ball, Dan Dawning, Charles Van Ness.

Win Over Portage Opens Season

The spotlight is once again turned on Valparaiso as your high school reporter brings you the ups and downs of the basketball season at V.H.S. Football was still in the air when practice began for the first game of the season, which was scheduled with the Portage Indians on Nov. 19, at the Viking's gym. Portage, Porter County champions, came to Valpo with all intentions of taking back victory, but the Vikings edged out a 34-28 decision over the opposing team.

The next tilt was with the Red Devils of Michigan City. This game extended the Green and White win to two, after a "flu" strickened Valpo "5" defeated the lake-siders by a score of 32-27. A "slam-bang" type of game was witnessed when the Valpomen traveled to Crown Point to polish off the Bulldogs by a 21-13 count.

In the next six games the Viking's luck fizzled, receiving only two wins. Valpo defeated Hobart and Tolleston of Gary, while Hammond Clark, Washington E.C., LaPorte, and Roosevelt E.C. all trounced the local boys. The next five encounters proved no better, falling before Whiting, Hammond High, Emerson, Horace Mann, and Hammond Tech.

The tide of battle finally changed and the Vikings out-classed Froebel, but lost their last two games to LaPorte and Tolleston.

Top Row: James Holt, senior, 18 points; George Ball, senior, 14 points; Henry Nielsen, junior, 3 points; Frank Lightcap, junior, 25 points; Richard Smith, junior, 58 points.

Vikings End Season at Sectional

The Junior Vikings suffered one of the warst seasons in all of its history taking only two victories, defeating Lew Wallace and Hobart.

The basketball spirit rose when the Vikings were scheduled to meet Fraebel as their first appanents in the sectianal at Gary. After a very hard faught struggle the Valpamen emerged with a close victory, but were defeated by Emerson in their second game.

Major, Minor

Softball, the last major sport of the year, is looked forword to by mony G.A.A. members as an opportunity to exercise out-of-doors. A group of enthusiasts gather oround for lost minute instructions. Two fields are used so thot more thon one game may be played at one time.

Four modern William Tells, Darlene Yazel, Borbaro Scribner, Victoria Lindberg, and Lucille Deon, try their luck ot scoring a bull's-eye on the straw target. Nancy Van-Ness, choirmon of the sport, was high point man. The girls come out for this sport to practice and earn points.

With "Dody" Day at the bat, and Marge Crosby catching, the teom starts a game of the round robin tournoments. The teoms are chosen by the sponsor, Miss Doris Bower, and the choirman of the sport. After the round robin, closs teoms are formed and classes compete against each other.

Betty Blachly, one of the noonday-leogue choirman, tries her skill ot moking o ringer. The girls didn't seem to be so interested in this activity os they usuolly are. Since no one signed up for health ball, it wos token off the schedule.

Girls practice the knee and shoulder stand, one of the twenty-four stunts out of twenty-five they hove to poss before being able to get on the A team or twenty-one out of twenty-five for the B team. Joon Stinchfield was choirman of tumbling this year.

Sports Activities

Miss Bawer gives instructians to Marge Crosby ond her assaciates just befare o "big game" is to be started. Helen Peck, who was the head of softboll, the last mojar spart of the season, reported that obout seventy-nine girls signed up for it and eight teams were formed.

Marian Gald, better knawn as "Red" finds her position on the side lines ond prepares to throw the ball in baunds during a game of speed ball. Every year class teams are farmed and these campete ogoinst one another in round robin taurnaments. Frances Jacobs was head of this sport.

"She winds up for o throw" could describe this scene os Victorio Lindberg, president of G.A.A., prepares to "spin" the ball to the batter. This is played when the turn of the tide comes ond the fall soccer field is used as a baseball field, the only thing missing is o grandstand.

Girls join in o scramble over an "unseen" object. The object is, however, a boll which is really there but con't be seen for feet. This sport is speedball which is played in the fall af every year, closs teoms participating in the yearly round rabin tournaments.

Donna Gustafson prepares to kick the ball ta start off o game of speedball. Forwards pay greot ottentian to the ball so they can kick it to their end of the field and make a goal. Volley ball is the fallaw-up of speedball, but it is played indoars.
